

Cheeky Monkey

A story by James and
Maximus Abela

James Abela ELT

Once upon a time there was a cheeky monkey, Maximus, Carmella, Mummy and Daddy. The Cheeky Monkey loves to eat cookies. Cheeky Monkey saw Maximus riding his bicycle. He wanted to have a go, but he did not have a helmet, then he had an evil idea. He jumped into the house and locked Mummy in the cupboard and then he put on a scarf to disguise himself.

Maximus and Carmella came in. Maximus went to the toilet and heard Mummy shouting, "Help! Help!" Maximus opened the cupboard and saved Mummy.

Mummy, Maximus and Carmella talked about what to do. Maximus went down stairs and saw that Cheeky Monkey was asleep. He made some special cookies with lots of Chili!

Cheeky Monkey woke up. Maximus said, "Would you like some cookies?"
Cheeky Monkey said, "Yes please, what a good boy you are..."

Ahhh! That's HOT!

"A drink perhaps?"

That's Worse!

Cheeky Monkey said, "I need anything to cool down! Anything!"

Maximus said, "There's lots of water in the river!"

Cheeky Monkey jumped out of the window and into the river!
